THE COURT: Twenty-one.

MR. BEASLEY: No objection.

THE COURT: It's granted.

Twenty-two.

MR. BEASLEY: No objection.

THE COURT: Granted.

Twenty-three.

MR. BEASLEY: We would object to that.

THE COURT: Ms. Burnett.

MS. BURNETT: Judge, it's just simply not permissible at this point. It's obvious at this point that the Defense has more resources available. The disparity at this point is between the State and the Defense because the Defense obviously has more money to spend on this case than we do, but that shouldn't be an issue for the jury to decide on or have argued to them. It's not proper.

THE COURT: Response.

MR. BEASLEY: Well, I don't know how it is that she knows how much money we're spending on this case, and she doesn't have any idea how much of this has been volunteer. But to the extent that the Defendant is able to argue that the Government has all the resources available to it, including the right to subpoena, including the right to have investigators working on the

1 case, then the Defense is able to argue that.

2 THE COURT: Twenty-three is denied.
3 Twenty-four.

4 MR. BEASLEY: No objection.

5 THE COURT: Granted.
6 Twenty-five.

7 MR. BEASLEY: No objection.

8 THE COURT: Granted.
9 Twenty-six.

10 MR. BEASLEY: No objection.

11 THE COURT: Granted.
12 Twenty-seven.

13 MR. BEASLEY: We're going to object to 14 that.

15 THE COURT: Well, anything -- something
16 comes up to that, before you make that sort of comment,
17 just approach the bench and make it to me. That's
18 something that's directed to me anyway.

19 MR. BEASLEY: So is 27 granted?

20 THE COURT: Twenty-seven is granted.
21 Twenty-eight.

22 MR. BEASLEY: Is the State just asking that
23 I ask you?

24 MS. BURNETT: Right. Not to mention these
25 things in front of the jury. We can address those issues
